Dear [redacted]

50X1

[redacted] received his travel orders this afternoon and will try to leave here by 23 September and report to you about Monday 27 September.

50X1

Your wire for estimates on shipping materials to Resida, Calif. was just received and I shall have these on the way to you in the morning.

As to materials still on loan to you, the records of both [redacted] seem to be confused and at variance. [redacted] recollection from [redacted] letter is that you still have some items out from the shipments of May 1947 and he adds that a statement will be necessary from you just as to whether everything has been returned; from thereon, he will check further and inform whether your statement coincides with his "records."

Two items sent with our letter of 22 June 1948 in compliance with your request of 20 May 1948, however, seem still outstanding. If you keep them after [redacted] terminates, they should be returned directly to [redacted]

The microfilm outfit was shipped back, express collect to [redacted]. The quoted charge was considerably above the $10.00 balance in our petty cash fund, so it was felt more feasible to send it collect. The equipment was professionally packed and properly labelled in the library shipping room. It was insured for $500.00.

50X1

We still await reply to our letter of 27 August on returning the poster collection to the shelves and releasing a copy of the listing of these to the library.

Our survey is progressing despite the pressure of the lack of time; since it is our final report we are bending every effort to make it as complete as possible.

In view of the uncertainty as to my continuing on under either a WAE or LWOP status as suggested in earlier letters, I feel this is a convenient time to submit the enclosed resignation.

Sincerely,

50X1
